DEVELOPMENT

New strategy for the LS Retail intelligence solutions

We have decided to shift the strategy for our intelligence solution suite to better align our offering with market demand.

Cloud services, LS Forecast and LS Recommend will be discontinued on December 15, 2022. From that day, these cloud services will not be accessible from LS Central, and training courses on LS Retail Academy's portal will be removed. As of today, these products are not available for purchase.

LS Insight, our BI and analytics solution, will become our main focus product. We will increase our investment in LS Insight, and we will relaunch the solution in the upcoming weeks under the name Analytics for LS Central. In view of this relaunch, we are working with selected partners and customers to better understand their requirements and the market's needs.

PARTNER OPERATIONS

Partner Survey webinar - register now!

We have set up a webinar on December 14, 2022 to discuss the results of this year's Partner Survey and which actions we intend to take based on these results, and get other important information across to you. We will also provide a general update for the partner community. Register to the webinar. Even if you cannot attend the live event, please sign up and we will send you links to a recording.

High-Volume Program for Diamond Partners

We recently launched the High-Volume Program with our Diamond Partners to help transform our perpetual business to SaaS-based business with pre-packaged offerings for our Micro Verticals (Fashion, Restaurant, Grocery, Electronics etc.). The purpose of this is to enhance the customer experience and give them a faster return on investment.

The LS Retail Sales, Marketing, Operations, and Consulting teams are part of the program, so please reach out to pops@lsretail.com for advice on how you can transform your business.

We look forward to seeing many fantastic offerings from you to get yourself and your customers on the Evergreen Train. We are here to support you on that journey.

LS RETAIL PORTAL

What's new on the LS Retail Portal

Updating and creating new marketing materials is a continuous process and we encourage you to check out the latest brochures and whitepapers:
